An ASTRONAUT

A a

Edmund was an astronaut.

For ages he'd been training to go on an adventure up into space to meet some aliens.

Although there was a problem.

Space was about three hundred and twenty-eight thousand, four hundred and sixteen feet above him...

...and Edmund had a fear of heights.

Anything over three feet in the air
was a bit much for him.

He had a long way to go.

Another three hundred and twenty eight thousand, four hundred and thirteen feet to be accurate.

BURNING A BRIDGE

B b

Bernard and Bob lived on either side of a bridge and for years had been battling each other for reasons neither could remember.

One day Bob decided to fix things so Bernard couldn't bother him anymore, by burning the bridge between them.

But Bob learned an important lesson that day.

He needed the bridge to get back.

Cup in the CUPBOARD

Cup lived in the cupboard.
It was dark and cold in there
when the door was closed.

He dreamed of living over by the window so he'd have a clear view.

One afternoon, he decided to go for it.
