

When Nora wakes up, she notices that her bed sheets

look like a calm, grassy hill.

When Nora is the only one awake in the morning,

she notices that the house feels like it's all her own.

When Nora is out walking, she notices a hedge

that is shaped like a cat licking its paw.

When Nora is at the supermarket, she notices a lady who is dressed like a pear, who is holding a pear.

When Nora is at the park, she notices an old man whistling beautifully to himself.

When Nora is waiting at the bus stop, she notices a strong man who is frightened by a little dog.
